Policeman Standing on Corner Sees Car Blown Up With Dyna- mite—No One Seriously In- jured.

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—At police headquarters much mystery was thrown around the finding in Goodale park, where Colonel Roosevelt made his speech on the car strike Saturday of a suitcase containing, so reports had it, nitro-glycerine, dynamite and gunpowder. It was found under a wing of the stand occupied by Roosevelt. No statements officially were to be had from the police department, other than the announcement that there was no dynamite or nitro-glycerine in the package. It also was stated that the stuff was not found until after the debris caused by the gathering had been cleared up and the park lawn smoothed out. Information made public by the police did not include mention of the amount of gunpowder found.

What the Case Contained.
From Councilman Morgan Price who was first notified of the find by Park Superintendent Anson, it was learned that the suitcase contained a five-pound can of giant powder, almost seven pounds of loose powder of the same grade, a couple of sticks of dynamite and two bottles containing what might be nitro-glycerine. Mayor Marshall is of the opinion that the explosives were not under the stand when Colonel Roosevelt delivered his speech, but was left there by a drunken miner who slept under the stand Saturday night.

Others express the opinion that the deadly stuff was placed there to do business, arguing that it was the intention of the miscreant to touch it off at the proper time, but that the crowd was so dense that he lost heart fearing that he would be caught in the attempt to touch it off.

On the Fourth street line, near Southwood avenue, a car was blown up with dynamite, the conductor being hurled from the car but not seriously injured. A policeman was standing near the spot when the explosion occurred. The report was heard for several miles.

STABBED HIS RIVAL

Marion, O., Sept. 12.—Harry Gilmore, 14, of Mentor, who escaped from the State House for Feeble Minded Youths a week ago, and appears only to be tongue-tied, told such a revolting story of immorality at the home, when captured here, that Mayor John G. Seiter will immediately take up the matter with Governor Judson Harmon and officials of the institution.

Gold Bullion Stolen.
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12.—Gold bullion worth $57,000, part of a $170,000 shipment from the Washington-Alaska bank of Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Dexter-Horton National bank in Seattle, was stolen and lead substituted in the strong box containing it between the time the precious parcel was examined by customs officers at Dawson, Yukon territory, and when it was opened at the United States assay office here.

DEATH AND INJURY IN A JOY RIDE

Nahant, Mass., Sept. 12.—An automobile driving along Nahant road, near the United States lifesaving station, struck a telegraph post, then turned turtle and when the wreckage had been cleared away it was found that two were dead and that the remaining three occupants were more or less injured. The car was the property of John Pilling, a Lowell shoe manufacturer, and was driven by his chauffeur, Albert Hanna, who had taken several of his friends for a joy ride to Magnolia. The dead are: Albert Hanna, 35, Lowell; Mrs. Ira Reed, 33, Nahant. Those injured were Ira Reed and his son Dan and Herman Spengler.

A WOMAN FOR CONGRESS

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp of this city, President of the W. C. T. U. in Kentucky, one of the most widely known clubwomen of this country, has announced that she will be a candidate for congress in opposition to J. Campbell Cantrell, the present representative and Democratic nominee, and M. C. Rankin, present state commissioner of agriculture and Republican nominee from the Seventh district.

Dr. Crippen Faces Murder Charge Alone

Despite the fact that Miss Ethel Clara Le Neve was freed of the charge of murder in connection with the alleged death of the wife of Dr. Crippen, the latter will be compelled to face the charge while his former typist sits in the courtroom listening to the testimony against him. English courtrooms are considerably different from those found in the United States. The accused is compelled to stand much of the time within an iron railing and is allowed few of the privileges accorded prisoners in this country. There is a narrow shelf or bench within the prisoners' dock, but during the greater part of the court proceedings Crippen will be made to stand facing his accusers and the court. Witnesses occupy a little boxlike booth confronting the prisoner, and behind this sits the magistrate.

CLERK MADE MISTAKE IN GRANTING LICENSE

Baltimore, Sept. 12.—After a strenuous experience, William Boyd, 36, of Stevenson, Baltimore county, married Mrs. Eliza Ann Daniels, 59. The wedding occurred in the Stevenson Methodist Episcopal church, which was crowded to the doors, interest being heightened by the age of the bridegroom and a peculiar mistake in the first license.

The clerk of the court mistook Mr.

Boyd's mission when he applied for a marriage license and issued a gunner's license instead. The bridegroom-to-be did not discover the mistake until after he had returned home. After supper he hiked back to town, ten miles from his home, routed out the clerk and secured a proper license. He walked both ways.

WORKMEN BURIED IN DEBRIS OF TUNNEL

Ten Killed And Many Injured When Walls Fall.

New York, Sept. 12.—The long list of more than 200 workmen killed in the construction of the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad's new open cut through the Bergen Hill, was increased by ten with the cave-in of a section of the adjoining old tunnel at the western entrance to the cut just west of the Hudson boulevard, Jersey City. Ten were killed and as many more were injured, some so seriously that the doctors at the hospitals believe they cannot recover.

Ever since the Millard Construction company completed the open cut the Erie railroad has been putting the finishing touches to the great engineering job with the help of a big gang of drillers, laborers and muckers, who had worked for the construction company.

Road Paid For Fine Homes.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—A new avenue of graft in the Illinois Central railroad was opened when it was disclosed that some of the officials involved in the car repair frauds built luxurious mansions at the expense of the road and almost entirely without cost to themselves. Detectives working on the case found that several officials had built fine homes during the last few years. The cement, brick and other materials are said to have been stolen outright from the Illinois Central. The contractors did the work free, it is said, because they were interested in Illinois Central contracts.

Killed in Explosion.

New Lexington, Sept. 12.—Bert Funk, engineer, was killed instantly and his son, Dean, and James Kelley were probably fatally injured when a boiler in the pump house of the T. & O. C. railroad exploded.

Freight Wreck.

Upper Sandusky, O., Sept. 12.—Conductor C. C. Chase of Dunkirk was crushed so badly when a Hooking Valley freight ran into a Big Four freight at Carey that he died a few hours later.

TOO MUCH WHISKY

East Liverpool, Sept. 12.—Michael Reed, 43, told his son, Orrie, 16, to go for a policeman as he sat fingering a revolver and as the boy tried to wrest the gun from his father the lad was shot through the hand. The boy hastened to a physician and then Reed shot himself. Policemen took him to jail, thinking he was drunk. A prisoner an hour later discovered Reed dying and saw blood on the cell floor. Reed was hurried to a hospital, but it was then too late to save his life. He had been suffering mentally of late.

AVIATOR FALLS INTO SEA

Lorraine Comes Within 60 Yards of Flying Over Irish Channel.

Dublin, Sept. 12.—Robert Lorraine, the actor-aviator, failed to cross the Irish channel by 60 yards. He left Holyhead, traveled 60 miles, being out of sight of land for more than 40 miles, and then with victory apparently in his grasp, fell into the sea. It was not known here that he was going to make the attempt.

Yachtsman in the bay saw an airplane descending from a great height. It struck the water about 60 yards from the shore near the Bailey light-house. Lorraine, who was wearing a lifebelt, swam towards the light-house, from which a boat was put out. Soon afterwards the Dublin steamer Adela lowered a boat and drew the partly submerged aeroplane to the side of the steamer. After reaching the lighthouse Lorraine set out again in a boat for the Adela and superintended the hoisting of his aeroplane to her deck. He found the injury to the machine was slight. Lorraine proceeded to Dublin and later returned to Holyhead, having made a record over sea journey by aeroplane.

Girl Dies Under Auto.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Miss Florence Pardee, the 18-year-old daughter of former Governor George C. Pardee, was instantly killed, and Mrs. C. H. Sadler was badly hurt when the automobile in which they were riding went over a grade in Marion county.

THOSE V SHAPED EVENING GOWNS.

Mrs. Oelrichs' Pertinent Criticism of One She Beheld.

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, the best dressed woman in Newport, criticised very pertinently at a recent dinner the new dinner gowns of Paquin and Calot.

These clinging and filmy gowns are chiefly remarkable for the V shaped back that they possess. The V—it is incredible, but it is true—opens all the way down to the waist line. At the gala performance in Paris given by the Metropolitan Opera company of New York—the most successful performance Paris ever saw and one whereat $9,000 was gained for the Pluviose victims—many of the beautiful Americans in the forty dollar orchestra seats wore these daring gowns, and now at Newport they are often to be seen.

Mrs. Oelrichs stared at one with astounded eyes at a dinner, and her neighbor said:

"Isn't that new gown of Mrs. Blank's a dream? Old Mr. Blank is so devoted. They say that everything he makes goes on his wife's back."

Mrs. Oelrichs, her eye fixed on the gown's terrible V, said, with a smile: "Well, he must be making very little, then."

Deemed it a Tongue.

"The self made man is splendid," said Andrew Carnegie at a dinner in Washington. "If he makes himself a mental and spiritual no less than a financial success. Too many self made men neglect the intellectual side. This sometimes—at commencements, for example—puts them at a disadvantage."

"I know a self made man who said at a commencement to his nephew:

"Well, Tommy, my son, what do they teach you here?"

"Latin and Greek," the boy replied.

"And German and algebra."

"Dear me," cried the self made man.

"And what's the algebra for turnip?"

DENIES RUMORS

Lena Chanler Says She and Husband on Good Terms.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Mme. Lina Cavalieri-Chanler showed to a correspondent a cable dispatch she had received from her husband. It read:

"Have seen no one. It is not true. Work begins. Devoted. Robert."

Mme. Cavalieri said the report of trouble between herself and her husband came as a bomb to her, although she knew what importance should be attached to stories printed by the American yellow journals. She laughed at a report printed here from New York to the effect that Mr. Chanler was trying to annul the settlement of 50,000 francs he had made on her at their marriage. She said: "There was nothing strange about our marriage. It was quite American. It is nothing extraordinary over there for a husband and wife to be in different countries. I always told Mr. Chanler I could not live long in America."

Big Chestnuts.

The chestnuts in Tabiti grow five or six times as large as in this country.

CATHOLICS END BIG CONGRESS

Every Nation Represented In Spectacular Parade

Girls Strew Flowers In Path Of Cardinal Vannutelli In Five-Hour March To Fletcher's Field, Montreal, Where Holy Host Was Placed—Papal Legate Suffers Near Collapse And Totters As He Is Led To Car- riage—Accidents Numerous

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The twenty-first Eucharistic congress closed with a spectacular parade in which more than 100,000 persons, clerical and lay, took part. It is estimated that close to 500,000 people were massed along the route from Place d'Armes to Fletcher's Field on the mountain side. It took the procession five hours to pass a given point.

His Eminence Cardinal Vannutelli, walking under a huge canopy and carrying the monstrance containing the host, stood the journey from Notre Dame to the open-air altar well, but it was evident that he was completely worn out and that a few moments more before being helped into his carriage after the ceremony would have seen his collapse. His calm, pleasant face, was pale and drawn and he tottered and almost fell as he ascended the altar steps. Other dignitaries in the procession, many of them old, had to be assisted before the end of the route had been reached.

Although the procession itself went off without a hitch, there were many accidents reported along the route. Many enterprising citizens had built grandstands along the way, small flimsy affairs. Although they were all inspected and passed upon by the building department of the city, several of them collapsed. Boys fell out of windows, off fences and telegraph poles, and women fainted from the crush and heat.

Entire World Represented.

The lay brothers led the clerical division. Then came the Friars, the fathers, the priests, all the different grades of the church, men from every part of the world. They were followed by choir boys and a coltys supplied in red. Following them came 150 bishops and archbishops clad in all the gorgeous splendor of the Roman Catholic church. Each bishop was attended by two priests. The smell of incense and the singing of a boys' choir announced the coming of the papal legate to the host. His eminence walked under a canopy attended by Prince De Croi and the other members of his staff. Before him were young flower girls clad in red and blue satin who cast flowers before the legate. The flowers were from all over the world. It was truly a bed of flowers his eminence walked upon from the church to the Camp de Mars. Following the canopy were altar boys carrying candles and then more boys with incense. Cardinal Gibbons was the next dignitary to walk after the papal legate. After him was Cardinal Logue, Archbishop Bruchesi of Montreal brought up the rear.

TO PROBE BOY'S STORY

Steuenville, Sept. 12.—Luigi Di Lucco, 33, an Italian storekeeper, was stabbed to death by Dominic A. Noldo, a railroad employe. Amoldo plunged a stiletto into Di Lucco's heart during a game of ball, while Di Lucco was protesting not to throw the ball too hard. The real cause for the crime is a private revenge, as Di Amoldo's girl a year ago. Amoldo, Lucco stole Amoldo's girl a year ago. Amoldo avoided arrest.

Fight Films Stolen.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Burglars broke into the Valencia theatre and stole the films of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, which were on exhibition there, under the protection of an injunction. Tex Rickard, who is supposed to be the actual owner of the right to show the films here, has offered a reward of $250 for their return.

BALLINGER'S RESIGNATION IS A SURE GO

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 12.—It is said here by men who have discussed the affair with President Taft that the resignation of Secretary Ballinger will be forthcoming before the cabinet meeting next week and that thereafter there will be a general strengthening of administration lines.

In all congressional districts that are regarded as doubtful. It is the belief of the president that the congressional campaign committee underestimates the strength of the business vote which will be cast for the Republican ticket.

KILLED HIMSELF

Lebanon, Sept. 12.—Raving like a frenzied animal, little 7-year-old Karl Schiller ran into the barnyard, bit the family dog and cow, and dashing into the house attacked his mother in a similar manner. His actions are said to be due to drinking too much whisky.

ESCAPE PLOT FAILS

Prisoners Fire Buildings, But Plans Go Wrong.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 12.—Twenty-five convicts in the state prison, employed in the brickyard, made a desperate attempt to escape by setting fire to the buildings in which they were confined. It is believed that the prisoners, who were treated as semi-trustees, thought that in the confusion following the fire they would have a good chance to escape. The flames were quickly discovered and an alarm soon brought guards from their beds, affording the prisoners no opportunity to get away.
